Environmental Sustainability

As the topic of environmental sustainability rises to the forefront of our customer's priorities, we have made it our priority to understand the challenges you face. Wynalda Litho is ready to assist you with your environmental sustainability initiatives.

We are familiar with Wal-Mart's sustainability scorecard and we are prepared to provide you with the information you need and to help you develop alternatives that will improve your score, profits and the public's awareness of your environmentally conscience behavior.

For more information about this or any of the fine products we offer, visit our website or give us a call.

Wynalda Litho has experienced creative and structural designers on staff to help our customers develop packaging and folding cartons that look great and work perfectly through production.
